GOULD ACADEMY

The Gould Academy Varsity will play at South Paris Saturday in a 12 p. m. encounter. The Huskies have a victory over the Paris nine and will be out to win their first two game series of the season. A victory over Norway last Friday gave them their second victory of the season and they will be striving to make it three league triumphs in a row.

The Huskies will travel to Dixfield Tuesday where they will meet the League leaders who have still to drop a decision in the Western Maine Conference. This game is scheduled for 3:30 p. m.

Sports fans of Bethel will have two events for their weekend entertainment. On Friday afternoon at 3:30 the Hebron Academy reserves will play a return game with the Gould J.V.'s. The local nine won the first game at Hebron by one run in a high scoring game.

The Gould Track and Field team will play host to Winslow High here on Saturday afternoon. The visitors will have a strong team to put against the Huskies and an interesting meet is expected. Gould and Winslow are often top competitors at the State Meet. The first events are scheduled for 1:30.

On Monday, May 21, the Gould J.V.'s will travel to Rumford for a 4 o'clock game with the Redskins.

High J.V.'s. This will be the first meeting of the two clubs.

It was after the midway mark that the Huskies began to pull away. For Gould, Howard Brush with 13 points and Joel Stevens with 12 led the scoring. J. MIDDLE INTERVALE

Mrs. Betty Soule, Mrs. Alma LaFayette and Mary Stanley were in Norway Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stanley of South Portland called at H. S. Stanley's Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Chaffin and daughter, Karen, called on Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Stanley, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Imogene Kimball visited Mrs. Minnie Harnden in Norway, Saturday. Mrs. Harnden celebrated her 90th birthday and received over 100 cards from her many friends.

Mrs. L. E. Davis, Mrs. Alma LaFayette and Mrs. Norman Dock were in Gorham, N. H., Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bean and family and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson of West Bethel were in Portland, Sunday.

Well, neighbors, let's face it! Either we live on the wrong side of the tracks or we're just plain hopeless. The town is to be cleaned up in every area but ours. But then again maybe we've been forgotten for another reason. Each year there have been suggestions offered as to ways in which the Portland approach to Bethel might be beautified. Someone suggested we should landscape where the old dump used to be. You know what we did? We posted a "No-dumping" sign hoping that Nature would help cover an eyesore. A job she can do given a fair chance. As a result of our efforts, however feeble, someone has carefully torn down the sign (so as to ease a guilty conscience I suppose), and in the early morning hours and at twilight cars slide in and dump their stuff willy-nilly. On a couple of occasions, much to my fiendish delight, conditions were such that cars became stuck in the mud. This clearly indicates a warped sense of humor I agree! So, Neighbors, let's continue to bend our aching backs and rub our callused palms together and continue in our efforts to make this end of town the eye-appealing area it already is.

— Mrs. R. M. Fleet, Corres. —

Mrs. Sherman Williamson and son of New York are at his parents, the Earl Williamson's for a few days.

Russell Yates is working for William Haines at South Waterford. The people of Swan's Corner were surprised by a visit from their old fish man, Will Simmons of Andover, who had not been around for some time on account of illness.

The Newry Extension Group will meet Friday, May 18, at Mrs. Bertha Bean's. It is an all day meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gardner of Scarborough and friends were at their hunting camp, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Chapman were at their farm several days last week.

Royal Reynolds is cutting plywood logs on the Floyd Verrill land.

Gardner Brown of Bethel was in Ketchum one day last week. The pine logs that were cut earlier on the Verrill land are being hauled.

Roy Bennett and Roland Fleet are working on the town and county roads last week and this.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer A. Brooks of South Portland called on his sister and family, the R. M. Fleets.

We had a woods fire on Jack Duffault's lot caused by the wind and the men's dinner fire which was quite hard to get to on account of muddy wood's roads and it being up on very high rugged ground. And the wind fanned it around until crews of men had to go up on both sides of the mountain.

Then to those who look at most every plane that crosses over the valley was a strange sight the other day. It was one regular plane and what seemed to be a jet of some kind either being towed or refueling as they went.

LOCAL WOMAN LEARNS OF

NEW MOTORING VACATIONS

Mrs. Kimball Ames of Bethel was one of a group of 200 women to hear about life beyond the "Billboard Curtain" at the women's division meeting of the Franklin County Extension Service which was held in the Old South Congregational Church in Farmington.

They listened to a talk by Dorothy Wendel, Women's Travel Coordinator of the Shell Oil Company, New York City.

They also heard a talk by Mrs. Winona Cadwalder, Fairfield, who has been doing to help the women of America get the most out of a trip in the family car with the least effort, but has also spoken extensively on the west coast.

"Remember, how far you travel is how long you're away is not important," she concluded, "provided you get far enough so that you can see your own backyard in its proper perspective. Redemptive work is done for your spirit and your mind and your social life."

She had some of its contents given to them. Paul Pendleton.
